Washington, Oct. 18.-Officialdon was foday more than ever determined to denounce Hun trickery in connection with the wild peace rumors now being fathered by Berlin. As the time goes on and it is shown that the vari-ous reports of impending capitulation abdication and a new policy of con-ciliation emanating from Berlin are simply additional German peace camouflage, officials here are renewing their efforts to nullify any possible

American forces who helped the British smash the Hindenburg line in the Cambral district recently are pushing on enthusiastically towards it. But they cannot initiate a series Mazinighien (six and a quarter miles southeast of Le Cateau).

British sallors were landed at Ostend. They were given a hearty ovation by the civilian population. Only Germany has learned her lesson, is beaten down and realizes it and wants the interests of the German people looked out for, Officials here who know the president's mind made it very plain today that they are convinced that is the present German program, and they were outspoken in de-claring that it has failed before it has even got well started.

Officials Hopeful.

In adopting this position, however, officials do not say that an early peace will not come. They are very hopeful that when Germany realizes that her military machine everywhere is on the defensive and that its main aggressive powers have been destroyed, then the leaders also will realize that President Wilson meant just what he said when he pointed out the way to peace, and his advice then will be followed. Whether such action will come immediately is hard to say. Officials again today pointed out that the moral and political factors rather than military olicies loom very large in the present situation.
